CONFIDENCE VOTE FOR DIRECTORS ASKED BY WOOD

MEETING HIGH LIGHTS

Speakers emphatic for harmony and decry recall movement.

Speakers say recall should be resolved into vote of confidence.

Heckling was absent at meeting as speakers given careful attention and much applause.

Speakers confident that present plan and directors can work out financing problems.

The meeting held in Elks Hall Monday afternoon in explaining the problems of future financing for the Nevada Irrigation District was productive of much good in the interest of harmony in the internal affairs. Present were Attorney General U. S. Webb, State Superintendent of Banks Will C. Wood and State Engineer Edward Hyatt, W. H. Orrick of the legal firm of Orrick, Palmer & Dahlquist of San Francisco and Arthur Battey of San Francisco representing the bond syndicate.

The hall was filled to overflowing with landowners who wanted first hand information from those in authority as to why the Bear river situation was removed from the area of further discussion on the advice of state officials and as to what the chances were for the future prospects of the district. Close attention was given the various speakers as they were introduced by J. A. Teagarden, chairman of the board of directors. At the close of their talks the meeting was adjourned and the general comment heard was that much had been accomplished in the way of clarifying the situation and much disgust expressed that a small group of dissenters still proposed to saddle considerable expense on the district at this time to hold a recall election in an attempt to foist the old management back on the district.

Arthur Battey brought out the point that with the district bonds having appreciated greatly in value since the directors voted to get out of Bear river, that the pending recall election should be resolved into a heavy vote of confidence for the present board of directors who were working to get the district out of the hole and were in a fair way to accomplish it, with proper cooperation from the landowners. State Bank Examiner Wood expressed the same sentiment and decried the present plan to throw a monkey wrench into the district machinery.

The one main point brought out in the talks was only a short time ago with litigation facing the district over the former management's plans to embark on a power project in Bear river, the district bonds had gone down in value to where they were quoted at 60 with no takers, and that since dismissing the condemnation proceedings they had gone in a few days up to 80 with no one selling, a gain in value of nearly a million and a half. In view of future bond issues being put on the market to bolster up the district finances, this is a most vital factor in the point of what the sales will net the treasury. The members of the state bond certification commission were a unit in stating that the plan of getting out of Bear river was going to prove the salvation of the district in the long run as it would tend to strengthen the contract features between the district and the power company, which was purely a cooperative enterprise in its very conception, as the company could get along without the district water, but that the district could not exist without the power revenue under the contract. The first speaker was Mr. Wood, who said that he was glad to explain matters of interest to the landowners: The district has tremendous power, mining and agricultural resources. I have delved into the affairs of the NID and found that the district was formed on the basis of cooperation. I am going to try to keep the district and power company together. I found that the district delivered less than 60 per cent of its contract water the first year. One of the points at issue has been the controversy over the Bear river. The Pacific Gas began its Lake Spaulding development some 50 years ago and brought into Bear

ROBERTS AND MOOERS LEASE MURCHIE GROUND

R. A. Roberts and Guy Mooers have taken a lease on a block of ground at the Murchie property and propose to open up the Coe vein which was formerly worked through the old drain tunnel of the Murchie. They are making the tunnel ready for operations and will open up the ground along the Big Blue vein to the Coe.

The Coe vein which is a parallel vein to the Independence was formerly worked to a depth of 200 feet below the drain tunnel from a shaft and there is an old whim shaft 90 feet deep. Values in the Coe vein are reported to have been encouraging.

GAYLORD LEADS IN THE TOTAL VOTE QUIP PREVENTS NAME AS NOMINEE

Combined Republican and Democratic Vote Shows Him To Be Popular Choice of Electorate—Technicality In Law Threatens Disfranchisement of Democratic Majority

Mrs. Cora Woodbridge, who has the distinction of slipping under the fence regularly at election time for the honor of representing the ninth assembly district finds herself in the uncomfortable position of having her opponent score a larger vote total in the Republican and Democratic ranks at the election last Tuesday but due to a provision in the primary election law, her name will appear as the Republican nominee.

Her vote getting ability in the Truckee section with the Donner monument figuring as the centerpiece decided the Republican battle by a scant majority of 65 votes. Nothing to be proud of for one who has for six years through the voters indulgence been sent to Sacramento in the interest of this district. She slipped up in trying to land the Democratic nomination, losing out by 157 votes in the district, and a net loss of 92 counting both tickets. Her name will not appear on the Democratic ticket and unless that party puts some one forward for the November election its voters will have been disfranchised by the quiry in the election law which prevents Gaylord by virtue of his losing the Republican nomination from being placed as the Democratic nominee as a result of the primary.

Burt Cassidy of Auburn romped in an easy winner on the Republican ticket for the honor of representing the third senatorial district. Nevada County gave him a handsome vote throughout the various precincts, both Republican and Democratic. To be declared elected at the primary means that a person must win both Republican and Democratic nominations as it precludes anything but a writein or an independent campaign which is a bare outside chance for any aspirants.

The results were close in the supervisor fight in the lead positions and two incumbents, R. A. Eddy of the 1st and Charles Hope of the 5th must fight it out at the November general election with Frank Davies of Nevada City and Alex Robertson of Hobart Mills as the opponents. Dave Rowe in the second district swept in an easy winner over his two opponents by a margin of over 300 votes.

The write-in campaign on both Republican and Democratic county central committees caused a lot of trouble around the election precincts in getting the votes tallied earlier.

The crowd in front of The Nugget office stretched out into the street at times as the numerous bulletins from the various percincts were posted. This office was the recipient of many compliments for the completeness and quickness of the returns from over the county and its vote totals for this county tallied very closely with the official returns in the county clerk's office. A great deal of trouble was experienced in getting the corret vote from Placer county due to Democratic votes getting mixed in with the Republican totals.

The Nugget wishes to extend its thanks to all who assisted in getting the returns to this office. The telephone was kept ringing almost continuously after eight o'clock until a late hour. The telephone girls furnished excellent service at the switchboards and the wires over the county were in fine condition for transmitting the returns.

A brief telegram from San Francisco Thursday announced that State Building and Loan Commissioner George S. Walker had that day issued a license and permit to the Nevada County Building and Loan Association to commence business which of course was very gratifying to Manager W. A. WESTERN MINES SHOWS SIGNS OF ACTIVATION

The Western Mines Consolidated which has been rather somnolent since the recent foreclosure sale of three of its mining properties, the Central, Banner and Norambague, to the Archibald interests, has been showing some activity lately in the county recorder's office when an agreement by the North Star Mines Company to sell the Champion property to A. D. Foote for $50,000 was placed on record.

Also recorded was an option given by Claude Stark to Peter Bender on the Mountaineer, Layton, Walrath, Rodgers, Price, Reward, Arbogast, Black Prince, Langdon, Fortuna, Live Yankee, Dodo, Orleans, Orleans Extension, Orleans No. 3, and East Orleans. Bender transferred his option to the Western Security Company and the latter to the Western Mines Consolidated for "$1.00 and other valuable considerations."

It has been rumored that the Western interests are preparing to lift the foreclosure but no money has been passed in the proposed deal.

The Murchie mill is dropping stamps one shift on rock coming from the 1150 level and the milling will be increased as new ground is opened up. The development work has uncovered an uncharted vein coming into the Big Blue on the 1150 in the hanging wall side and showing a width of three to three and a half feet with good values as fas as uncovered.

Assays on the face of the intersection showed values running up to $40 per ton.

The east drift on the 1150 is being run to prospect the ground. The west drift on that level is being run three shifts to cut under the known ore shoot on the 1000 level which will give 150 feet of backs to work on. The stoot was around 400 feet long and averaged ten feet in width between the 1000 and 500 levels. Rails and air pipe and water line have been laid on the 1000 level.

Some changes are being made in the mill. An automatic sampler on the sands has been installed to keep a closer check on the material going through. The vanners have been changed over. A new electric hoist is now being installed and with a large headframe being erected over the collar of the new shaft and ready for use within a week or ten days, things will be humming.

The shaft collar has been placed and seven sets completed in the new prospect shaft being sunk under direction of Jos. Marriott. The shaft is to be sunk to a depth of 200 feet at once and drifting will be prosecuted from that point to determine the nature of development work to be undertaken. The bottom of the shaft is now in decomposed granite which shows colors in panning. The material being taken from the shaft will be used to fill in and level off the site about the collar. The permanent mill site will be to the north of the shaft. The headframe will be 36 feet in height and will also house a 50 ton ore bin. The blacksmith shop is already up and an office building, 14 by 12, is in course of construction as also a chang house.

IRRIGATION DISTRICT

river below Drum power house some 400 second feet flow of water. You haven't any legal rights in Bear river. You have some filings there. I can file on any stream in California but that doesn't give me any rights. If the Bear river situation is the heart of the district plans, then your representatives filed a district without a heart. The bond commission has some 70 irrigation districts under its control. As superintendent of banks I am interested in the banks which hold mortgages on farm property in this district. If the bondholders should organize it would mean that excessive land taxes would ensue until the bonds were paid.

"The proper thing was to withdraw the condemnation suits. The power company is willing to help out and is willing to consider extra waters of the district to build up more revenue. I don't think that either the district or the company should try to crush the other. There is plenty of room for both of you. You are tied up for 50 years. Are you going to have 50 years of warfare or harmony? If it is to be warfare, I think you will get hurt worse than the company. The picture of the future may not turn out so roseate as was told you in the beginning."

Mr. Webb was next introduced and spoke as follows: "I have not yet had any differences with the landholders of Nevada and Placer counties. I have not, however, at times agreed with the management of the NID. My chief concern is for the people who have to pay the bills. I have been a member of the bond commission since the inception of the district. There is weakness in division, there is unity in strength. I doubted the wisdom of the bond setup of the district at the outset and because it took two years to get it through, showed that I was not convinced of its ultimate success. I am in favor of the NID proceeding along sane lines and not gambling on chance and possible litigation. I thought I knew your entire plans. The basic part of your district is the contract with the power company. It came to the attention of the commission in July, and not officially from the district, that condemnation proceedings had been filed. If you had the suits decided in your favor, you would have but 20 per cent of the flowage rights in Bear river. I am satisfied myself that the power company had protected its interests. That Bear river stuff was a mere hope, an idle dream and had no basic legal fact. It was not disclosed at the time of putting over the bond issue, it was concealed for some reason or other.

"The right to bring these suits after six years had elapsed is open to discussion, to press these diaphanous claims. The suits never should have been brought, is the opinion of Mr. Wood and myself. They showed an evidence of bad faith on the part of some of your representatives. The power company has now agreed to use all your surplus waters if sufficient extra waters above contracted amount be furnished to warrant them in increasing their facilities to take care of such matters and over a term of years. The railroad commission would be willing to set in to help fix the price of such surplus waters.

"The conference between the bond commission, the bond syndicate, railroad commission and the district directors last week has brought forth the plan which should make you a going concern. Let us look forward and avoid a recurrence of the mistakes of the past. I believe that the district has a safe future under the present plan. You remember the miracle of the water turned into wine in the Bible and the miracle of the loaves and the fishes to feed the multitude, but I have yet to see where water can be stored and delivered to the land at no cost to you. Seven million nothing. The day of miracles has passed. Some man has erred. I hate to say it but some women have erred at times. GET TOGETHER NOW. QUIT YOUR BICKERING. QUIT YOUR FIGHTING. GIVE A LITTLE COMFORT AND CHEER TO YOUR DIRECTORS. I think a day of salvation is at hand for you on the present plan.

Mr. Orrick stated that he had regretted to learn that the power company had been refusing to pay for water under the contract as it was imperilling the payment of the interest on the bonds. The payments for water have been pledged to the redemption of the bonds and interest. If you violate a contract on your part, it gives the other party a right to refuse to live up to its part and possibly abrogate it. The condemnation proceedings would have involved the district in complicated litigation. Tibbetts stated to him, said Orrick, that he did not favor the plan of developing water in Bear river. Nothing would be gained by antagonizing the power company. "I RECOMMEND THAT THIS DISTRICT GO FORWARD WITHOUT FURTHER CONTROVERSY."

State Engineer Hyatt stated that the unanimous decision of the bond certification commission has been for the dropping of the condemnation proceedings. The district position on Bear river was untenable. The Pacific Gas position was sound. "IF YOU WILL FOLLOW OUR PLANS YOUR DREAMS MAY YET BE BROUGHT TO FRUITION.

Arthur Battey said he had a deuce of a time convincing his bankers regarding the District and that they told him that this was not an irrigation district, this was a mining country. He said he hoped to be able to prove to them that he was right. HE STATED THAT THE RECALL SHOULD BE TURNED INTO A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE. The landowners committee was unanimously in favor of the plan and four of the five diretors felt so. Instead of trying to recall your directors, give them a vote of confidence. Your bonds jumping from 60 to 80 in the open market shows your four directors were right in their action.

Mr. Wood resuming the floor stated that he had intended to speak of the recall. "You should require the prospects for your new board of directors to show where they are going to get $200,000 for the January 1st interest. You can't afford to have this district go into default. THE PRESENT BOARD OF DIRECTORS HAS SHOWN YOU A WAY TO GET OUT OF YOUR DILEMMA."

At this juncture Mr. Teagarden adjourned the meeting.

The Morning Session

At the morning session of the board, Mr. Miller requested that the word "acting" be dropped from his managerial title as was only hired by the month. Engineer Tibbetts was directed to consult with Dr. C. P. Jones and associates with regard to a water supply for the city of Sacramento. The Diamond Match Company was substituted for another company in the matter of lumber supply for maintenance work.

A bill which had been hanging fire for some months for the use of a tractor at the time the Fall creek siphon was clogged with anchor ice last winter, was brought up. The contractor asked $2355. and the directors voted to pay in a warrant $2150.50 to close the account.

The manager reported that the district was liable for the flooding of the Gracie and Mayflower mining properties from the new ditch. The pipe line leakage at the Gracie was reported stopped but water has been seeping into the shaft from some other point. There is a very heavy flow of water going into the Greenman shaft at the Mayflower where unwatering operations were under way. The directors voted to have the manager handle the situation. Some of the flume bents on the Bowman Spaulding line were reported distorted and would need attention.

A Glendale company wants to set out 2000 acres to citrus fruit in the Spenceville section and wrote regarding water service for the tract.

The meeting seemed unable to proceed without frequently calling on the former manager to elucidate matters under discussion. The latter recommended that a law suit be started against the Yuba River Power Company over the recent appropriations granted by the Water Resources Division and charged that the Division had acted illegally in the matter of permitting changes in the filings made by the power company. The directors directed the attorney to look into the matter. The former manager claimed that the Yuba company's holdings could be acquired under condemnation proceedings.

It was reported that Engineer Tibbetts was highly elated at the engineer that had been appointed by the bond syndicate to investigate his department.

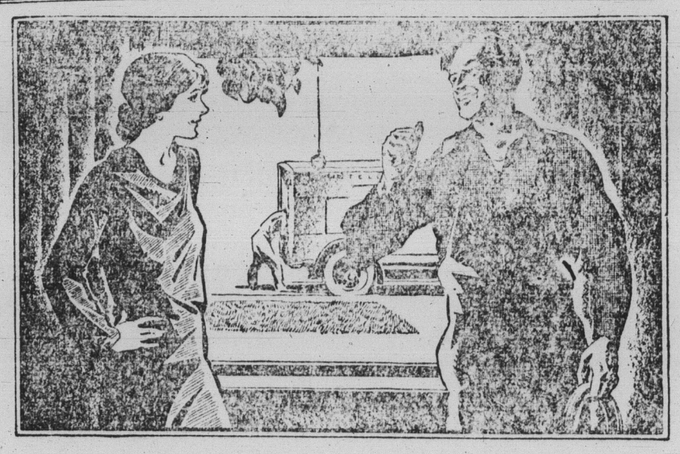
Phone Number One We Deliver



Telephone service, a public trust

THE widespread ownership of the Bell Telephone System places an obligation on its management to guard the savings of its hundreds of thousands of stockholders.

Its responsibility for so large a part of the country's telephone service imposes an obligation that the service shall always be adequate, dependable and satisfactory to the user.

The only sound policy that will meet these obligations is to continue to furnish the best possible service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety.

There is then in the Bell System no incentive to earn speculative or large profits. Earnings must be sufficient to assure the best possible service and the financial integrity of the business. Anything in excess of these requirements goes toward extending the service or keeping down the rates.

This is fundamental in the policy of the company.

The Bell System's ideal is the same as that of the public it serves—the most telephone service and the best, at the least cost to the user. It accepts its responsibility for a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust.

HOW A TRUST FUND SAVINGS ACCOUNT FUNCTIONS

There is not ap article of difference between a Trust Fund Savings Account and an ordinary Savings Account as long as the owner of the account is living. It is only when the owner of the account is no longer interested in money, or after he is dead, that it takes on a different aspect.

Then the money in the account, if it is a Trust Fund Savings Account, does not go into the court, but may be paid to the person named when the Trust account is opened. But this beneficiary cannot touch the money, in fact may not know that he or she is the beneficiary, until after the death of its owner.

During your life time it operates the same as an ordinary account. You add to it or draw from it at will. It is subject to your signature alone, and draws the usual interest. Your orders with reference to it are strictly followed.

W. B. JEFFREYS GIVE A NICE BIRTHDAY PARTY

SMARTSVILLE, Sept. 1, (Special to The Nugget)— We have had delightfully cool and pleasant weather the past two weeks, with the exception of the last two or three days. Suppose the fires on the distant hill sides are contributing to the warm weather. There is a smoky haze drifting over the pines and burning wood is wafted to us on the evening breeze. Still, there is a feeling of autumn on the air,—mornings are chilly, some of the trees in the yards and woodlands are changing from summer's green hue to the lovely, vari-colored tints of autumn. There is a call to all of us to make the most of these last days of waning summer and early fall, and take ourselves away to the parks and woods for a few more outings before winter announces her approach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jeffery entertained at a dinner party at their home Monday evening, the occasion being in honor of Mr. Jeffery's birthday. Those bidden to share the happy party were: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Colling and Mrs. Bertha Gassaway, (the former being niece and nephew of Mr. Jeffery and the latter his sister. We all join in wishing him many happy returns of the day., and just as many wonderful things to eat as was prepared this year in his honor.

FRENCH CORRAL GIRL IS IN FAIR SPELL CONTEST

FRENCH CORRAL, Sept. 1, (Special to The Nugget)— Well the August Primary is over and school has begun in many places and most of us are back to the old routine life. There were so many splendid candidates for the various offices this year that it seemed a pity all could not be elected. With so many good people to represent us and so many who want to represent us, we wonder how wrong doing can ever creep into our beautiful world!

Our state fair which this year promises to be the best ever, interests many of us and here "at home" we are particularly interested in the "Spelling Contest", as we learn that one of our own Ridge girls is to represent Nevada county. Elizabeth Thomas of Brchville is one of our Ridge children of whom we are very proud. We hope that she will be a winner and add one more to the laurels which the old "Ridge" justly claims. So much that was our has been taken from us in recent years that we have become rather jealous and fussy about anything that we may lay claim to.

Speaking of spelling contests reminds us that French Corral walked off with honors in that line in a contest given in Nevada county in 1873 of '74. Four pupils were entered from the French Corral school (each teacher had the privilege of entering six pupils) and three carried off a prize. One was the highest prize, $50 won by Miss Bertha Loveridge. This same lady, now Mrs. Bertha Landis of Lincoln won the State prize at the last State contest held at Sacramento

Well now to the "come and go."
